Progress Score: 3

Activities completed for the compilation:

We discussed about our objective of this sprint by online meeting this week. Considering the relatively small size of our group, we decided to realize two stories in the first sprint, including creating user's profile and uploading books to the trading platform. We divided our workload into three parts and each of us will work on one of them.

I am responsible for the development of client-side. Refer to the projects I have done in other courses, I intended to do the development using ReactJS and HTML, which are useful on the creation of web page and website.

We met several times to synchronize our progress and tried to solve our problems. We still have some bugs and problems to be solved up to the time of writing this report. We hope to fix as much bugs as possible before the submission of this deliverable.

Goals and activities to be completed in next deliverable:

- Users can buy and sell books
- Buyers can contact sellers about their orders
- Buyers can add products to their cart and decide to buy the items later only if they have logged in.
- Buyers can browse and search for books by category or name.
- Client-side optimization (e.g. Aestheticization)

Issues for immediate attention:

- Make each page only be responsible for single functionality.
- Complete the uploading and transmission of book image.
